ARTWORK CATALOG BY EVEKOSS

To wander the wild, to unveil the quiet.

"Rimba was never a place I searched for yet somehow, it is where I ended up."

"Rimba" was never a place I sought yet it is where I arrived. Born from buried emotions, unanswered questions, and the noise of judgment, this journey leads to an inner wilderness: untamed, alive with signs, sounds, and strange clarity. Rimba is no passive backdrop; it is a mirror of the soul scarred, searching, and accepting. The works move like dreams symbolic, layered, and full of contradiction where darkness meets light, and chaos finds its rhythm. Female figures emerge as guardians of intuition, spirit, and nature, witnessing what grows within, including unrest long held. The exhibition unfolds in three parts: reimagined canvases, new works that deepen the narrative, and raw sketches most intimate, still wild before form.

Rimba does not offer answers. It invites the courage to enter the uncharted, to be lost and find unexpected depths reminding us of the fragile, necessary bond with nature, with others, and with ourselves. Not because it is perfect, but because it is real.

About Artist

EVEKOSS

Evelyn Euginia Kosasih “Evekoss” was born on 2000 in Denpasar, Bali. She finished her degree in Visual Communication Design at Petra Christian University, Surabaya. Even though she had studied design, Evekoss realized that she preferred fine art field. Thus she started to get serious about the fine art in 2020, autodidact. Evekoss likes to use acrylic medium in her work. Mysterious yet humorous figurative visuals are combined with contemporary self-expression. With these visuals, Evekoss also likes to share stories from paintings that have been created based on her imagination so that they become lessons for herself and also for others. Evekoss also often describes her experiences, things she saw, and conversations with people she met.

A beautiful conversation that lasted through the night until dusk returned. It felt like we were the only souls alive in the world. Like we were the only ones with true love. You, who understands me best. You, whom I love dearly. Plates and cups can remain empty as long as you are here by my side.

The warmth of her presence makes everything move and dance endlessly whether in joy or like worms in discomfort. Her loud melodies, though sharp to the ears, honestly fill my chest and make my heart beat faster. I know she speaks, but sometimes, I wish she would be quiet. She is my mother, her voice often loud, but always meaningful. Sometimes too much, but that's just how she shows her love for me.

Even though she lived in the skies, her eyes had found a home in my heart. When those eyes met mine, something strong, something cosmic happened. Gravity seemed to cease, and in that moment, eyes no longer needed words to speak.
